OZ&NS BY T.COLON

Each year, a new MADDENING Football video game is released. Playing this game is just as strenuous and exciting as actually getting up off your lazy butt and playing a real game of football. Why don't we take a look at the latest version, huh?

I'll put my name on anything!*

MADDENING

WRITER:
RICKY SPRAGUE
ARTIST:

*This video game features the voice of John Madden himself! It's his second most annoying feature! (His face and personality are tied for first!)

OPENING MENU

EXHIBITION GAME

Lets you practice getting sacked, fumbling the ball and throwing interceptions.

FRONT OFFICE

Lets you make a perfectly good team, like the Super Bowl champion Denver Broncos, play like the New Orleans Saints.

MADDENING REMOTE

Lets you watch Madden draw funny pictures.

'99 SEASON

Here is where you actually get to play the damn game!

GETTING STARTED

Before starting, decide how much steroids you'll use to enhance your game. Use the A and B buttons on your control pad to select a limb to shoot up into!

Of course, you'll have to get past the team's drug test! Toggle the control pad left – right quickly to slip someone else's urine into your cup.

Hoo, boy! This is a very interesting sample. According to this, you're pregnant.

LET'S RUN SOME DRILLS!

THROWING DRILL

Throw the ball as far as you can! Sounds simple, huh? Well, we've gone to great lengths to ensure that it ain't!

IDEALIZED EXAMPLE OF VIDEO GAME CHARACTER HEAVING THE FOOTBALL.

Vigorously toggle the left – right control pad. Press the A or B buttons; doesn't matter which, because neither work. Set the angle of the throw with the other button. Press left – right, left – right again, praying you somehow hit a button that actually does something.

REGGIE WHITE STEREOTYPING DRILL

Learn to insult every ethnic group in the world.

God loves the Albanian 'cause they never bathe, which makes the sheep feel right at home!

THE DEION SANDERS

DANCING-IN-THE-ENDZONE-WITH-YOUR-TEAM-DOWN-BY-40 DRILL

THE JEFF GEORGE BERATING-YOUR-TEAMMATES DRILL

Cover your own mistakes by blaming others.

POSTGAME PRAYER DRILL

After spending all day trying to behead the opposing player, press the G, O, D buttons in order to pontificate to fans who just came to watch a damn football game!

MICHAEL IRVIN BAGGIE DRILL

Hang out on the rough side of town. Whatever you do, don't fumble!

STEVE YOUNG CONCUSSION RECOVERY DRILL

Lay down and take it easy for awhile!

If you're drafted by a team you don't want to play for, use the X and Y buttons, along with the left control pad, to sit out for a year and give interviews complaining about your awful lot in life.

I tell ya Roy, it's tough being me. But I'd rather miss out on my $10 million than compromise my integrity.

I'm gonna hit you with a word that's dogged you throughout your career: "crybaby."

The owner selection allows you to play the owner! Hit the X button to fire your coach. Hit the Y button to get around the salary cap. Or hit the A button to sign your own promotional contracts, then file billion-dollar lawsuits against the league!

I don't think anybody saw that one coming!

CHOOSE YOUR AGENT

Skip the humiliation of trying out by signing an agent before the draft: Use the control pad to select one with a great PR team who can hype your abilities before anyone knows if you can actually play. Be sure your contract has plenty of clauses that can get you out for any reason.

SIGN THAT CONTRACT

Press left - right to sign your name. If the pen doesn't write immediately it may be necessary to shake it. This can be achieved by pressing the B button several times.

Just look at him shake that pen! He came to sign!

Maddening '99 is pleased to announce that it has plenty of hard-core action! Woo-hoo!

CENSORED SORED
CENSORED RED
CENSORED

Oh! He'll be feelin' that in the morning!!

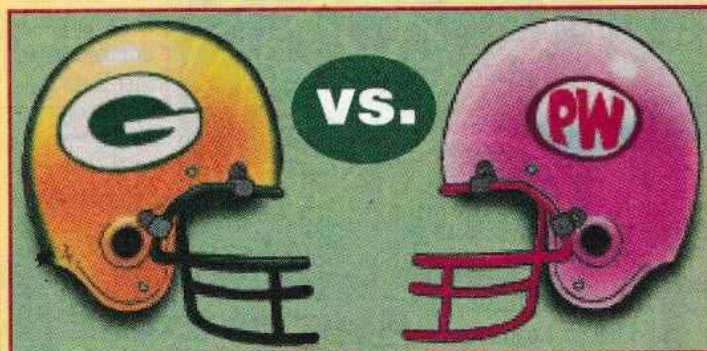

And later, when you've fathered 8 kids by 7 different women, you can rapidly press the A and B buttons to avoid them!

Ok! Now that you've practiced, let's actually play a game!

Maddening '99 lets you choose any NFL team you want to play! Another great thing about the game is that it doesn't matter which team you choose... they'll all suck anyway! Because you're in control!

YOU:
GREEN BAY PACKERS

COMPUTER:
PEE-WEE GIRLS FOOTBALL ALL-STARS

FINAL SCORE

|               |     |
|---------------|-----|
| GREEN BAY     | 3   |
| PEE-WEE GIRLS | 178 |

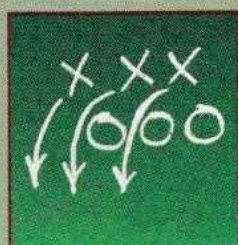

Before the game actually starts, get ready for some exciting pre-game banter featuring Maddening himself, and that other guy, the guy who always works with him on TV, the one whose name isn't on the game. You know who I mean. Jimmy or Patty or something.

Choose from the following clichés:

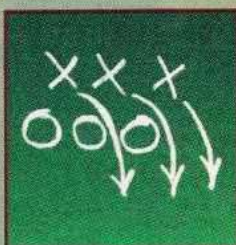

- "This should be a good one."
- "I've been looking forward to this one all season."
- "Both teams have their game faces on."
- "They look like they're ready to give 110%."
- "They both represent what's right with this game."

The rules of football are pretty complicated anyway, but with this video game, we've managed to double the level of slack-jawed confusion. There are over 36 plays. At least 40. Possibly as many as 50 or 60. There can't be any more than 70 or so. I would think. Who knows? Anyway, you have about 4 seconds to choose which play you want to run. Here are some examples.

ATTACK RIGHT

Good for when there's something on the right.

ATTACK LEFT

When there's something on the left worth attacking.

623 IN-OUT-RUN

Around and around!

WILDCAT FIRE-MEOW!

Sounds cool, huh?

4-3 ALAMAN LEFT

Pass to your partner!

3-4 DOSEY-DO

Confuses your offense!

COUNTRY LINE-DANCE

Nothing is accomplished and it takes a looong time to learn!

MACARENA

Come with me, join with me, and all you fellas chant along with me.

TV TIME-OUT

Bathroom break!

TROIJAN HORSE

Trick the other team into bringing it into the endzone!

If you don't choose your play in the allotted time, the computer selects one for you. This increases your chances of actually getting a first down.

Just because the play's over doesn't mean you stop playing! One of the game's new features is the CHEAP SHOT. When the ball is whistled dead, (and if the official's looking away), why not hit somebody!?

That kind of rough play is what this game's all about.

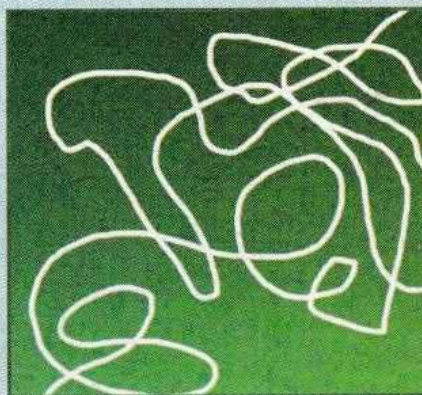

The game is made up of four quarters, which each last 5 minutes. And, at the end of your game, you can review your game's statistics!

WARNING: REVIEWING YOUR STATS CAN BE HUMILIATING!

Another new feature is the MADDENING TELESTRATOR, which allows John Maddening himself to analyze your plays!

Basically, what he did was, he ran here, then back here, doubled back, then over...

I tell ya, I can't figure this play out. It looks like a big ol' plate of spaghetti!

Where am I?

Sometimes he gets a little carried away with it! Just like on TV! (That's why he makes the big bucks!)

Maddening '99 is so popular, Electronic Farts plans on introducing sequels incorporating other video game stars:

Hey! I'll feel that in the morning!

Maddening vs. the big-boobed cutie from "Tomb Raider"

I don't mean to lose my head over this!

Maddening vs. Sub-Zero from "Mortal Kombat"

Benchwarmer's Bistro

Inspired by the successful All-Star Café, minor league baseball short-stop Julio Gomez, second-string NFL field goal kicker Carl Stubbavitch, and last round basketball pick Eddie Weathers have joined together to open this restaurant dedicated to athletes not quite good enough to make it in the big leagues. We began our meal with the Sports Snacks ($4.95), which are hors d'oeuvres served on bench splinters picked from the seats of the owner's uniforms. They taste as good as they sound. Our main course was the "In the Cellar" Sirloin ($15.95), a tough, fatty steak whose preparation was as successful as a Boston Red Sox bid for a World Series win. ★★★

Chester's Pre-Chewed Chow

Advertised as "the ultimate in fast food", this eatery caters to the busy professional whose hectic schedule doesn't leave him time to chew his own meals. Instead, Chester's staff of trained chewers will do the work for you, allowing you to just swallow and run. We ordered the Italian Feast ($6.75), a gooey, globby mixture that might have been lasagna, might have been ravioli, might have been pickled herring. We couldn't tell. I did enjoy the Mushy Meat platter, although the saliva gravy was too lumpy for my tastes. 0★

The Hardly Rock Café

Do you love rock 'n' roll? Then don't bother visiting this place, which prides itself on playing the lamest music ever recorded. As we sat there listening to songs by Yanni, John Tesh and Kathie Lee Gifford, we viewed their worthless personal memorabilia covering the walls and struggled desperately to stay awake. One look at the menu was all we needed to quickly order the Double Caffeine Black Coffee laced with No-Doz ($8.25) and the Stayquiet Earplugs ($12.50). The earplugs arrived just in time to block out the upcoming forty-five minute Donny Osmond medley. By the time we wolfed down our Michael Bolton Burger ($9.95) and Celine Dion Onion Rings ($3.25), we were ready to leave and go listen to some real music. -3★

Bangla-Dish

In the mood for a hearty meal with exotic atmosphere? You can get half of that at Bangla-Dish. This restaurant features the local cuisine of under-developed nations too poor to have local cuisine. We checked out the kitchen and can honestly say that it's the cleanest we've ever seen, mainly because it's never been used. We began our meal with the Bowl of Dirt ($4.25), which we cannot recommend, unless you happen to be an earthworm. Our next course, a Bigger Bowl of Dirt ($6.75), offered a generous portion, but again relied too heavily on dirt. Our dessert, the Bowl of Dirt Mixed with Twigs ($3.95), at least had some twigs in it. ★★

The Literal House of Pancakes

Every LHOP is constructed from a mixture of eggs, milk and flour, so if you plan to pay a visit, it's best to get there before the first big rainstorm turns the place into a big, gooey mess. First we sampled the "Three Bites of Any Countertop for a Buck", then moved onto the "We Need Another Window So Start Chewing Through the Wall" $4.99 Dinner Special. By the time we finished the "Put Whipped Cream on Chair and Eat It" Dessert ($2.50), we were left with a queasy feeling and no place to sit. We're very thankful that this restaurant should be eaten down to the ground by fall. ★

Ptomaine Pty's

This busy diner, home to the 99-cent "All You Can Stomach" Dinner, caters to the thrifty customer who's looking for a bargain and who doesn't mind a few searing abdominal cramps. We sampled their well-stocked Botulism Buffet and Salad Bar, which delighted our taste buds for about twenty-five minutes, then had us running into the bathroom for twelve hours of non-stop puking and diarrhea. But at those prices, we were back the next day. ★★★★★

The Fashion Victim Café

Tired of being intimidated by impossibly beautiful people? The Fashion Victim Café features real people wearing real clothes looking real bad. Our waitress recommended the house special of green beans, orange slices and blueberries over a clashing pink sauce ($15.95). It tasted terrible, but who comes here for the food? You come here to feel like you're the best-looking, best-dressed person on earth! So even if you don't touch your plate of yellow squash, red beets and black-eyed peas, you'll leave feeling good! ★★★★★★★

Most of us lead dull, boring lives. Which is why we watch TV: we want to see people leading cool, exciting lives. The hit movie of the summer is about a plain, uninteresting guy whose entire life is a TV show. So why in the hell would anybody want to watch a 24-hour TV show that is a mirror of their own dull, boring lives? And why would the critics proclaim that this is one of the great movies of all time? Take our word for it (and save yourself 8 bucks) it ain't...

Cracked Looks at the Sport Utility Vehicle Craze

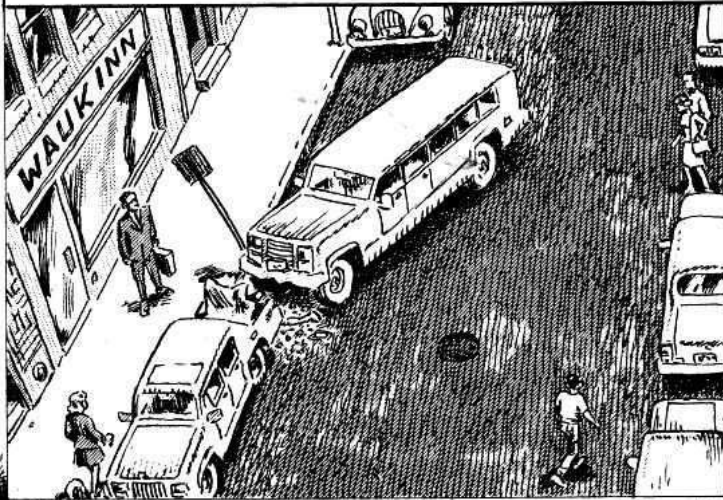

WRITER: GREG GRABIANSKI • ARTIST: JOHN SEVERIN

Origin of Sport Utility Vehicles

For years, Americans wondered: "What is the best way to waste my money?" They said: "If only I could buy a vehicle that's pretty much just like a station wagon, but for twice the price. I'd gladly go into debt for a vehicle that uses twice as much gas, has features that I'll never use and is a hazard on the road."

They attempted to build a vehicle that was impossible to parallel park. The Toyota No-Turn was 25 feet long and incapable of turning its wheels or going in reverse. Americans still found it not difficult enough to park.

Sport Utility Vehicles & the American Family

The sport utility vehicle, the typical American family imagines, will take them on wild family adventures! Plowing over rocky terrain and splashing through mud, rivers and snow with carefree abandon, they narrowly avoid disaster because of their SUV!

Even car companies have struggled to invent a vehicle that wasteful.

They tried a vehicle filled with unnecessary features. One was filled with complex equipment that could predict the mating habits of small sandcrabs native to the lower New Jersey shore. Not useless enough for Americans.

They tried the Chrysler Fuel Spill, a vehicle with high-pressure hoses that shot gasoline all over the place. Still too much fuel economy for Americans.

Finally, they succeeded! They combined all these elements of waste into what they called the sport utility vehicle! It's bigger than a car, which made it harder to maneuver and park, but was too small to be useful as a van. It quickly chugged gallons of gas and had heavy-duty features the average person would never use. As a result, it was an instant hit!

PLEASE! I'VE GOT TO HAVE ONE! TAKE MY MONEY!

TAKE MY CHILDREN! ANYTHING! PLEASE! MUST HAVE ONE!

Yes, sir! Soon as they buy a sport utility vehicle, the intrepid family heads out into the great outdoors, ready to blaze a trail of adventure, thrills and danger.

SUVs & the Freedom of the Great Outdoors

OH, GOSH DARN!
I GOT SOME
MUD ON IT.

QUICK, CLEAN IT
OFF BEFORE IT
RUSTS.

DAD, AREN'T WE GONNA DRIVE
THROUGH SOME RIVERS AND
MUD? AND OVER BIG
BOULDERS AND CANYONS?

ARE YOU KIDDING? THIS THING COST ME 30 GRAND. DO YOU THINK I WANT TO RUIN THE SUSPENSION AND SHOCKS? NOT TO MENTION
SCRATCHING THE PAINT? NO, SIR, WE'RE STAYING RIGHT ON THE ROAD 'TIL WE GET TO THE MOTEL.

Living in the city and suburbs, all you do is deal with miserable bumper-to-bumper traffic. But once you get your sport utility vehicle, you and your family will experience the thrill of driving off-road, blazing trails where nobody's gone before! When the weekend comes, drive out to the country and go for it!

DON'T WORRY, GANG! SOON WE'LL TURN OFF THE ROAD AND BLAZE A NEW TRAIL THROUGH THE WILDERNESS!

Yup, millions and millions of sport utility vehicle owners do it every weekend... so why not you and your family?!

But the adventurous family seeks out the solitude of nature.
No, there's nothing like enjoying the pristine splendor of nature in your sport utility vehicle.

The cool, green trees and bushes!
The invigorating fresh air!

Think of the enormous enjoyment and valuable education your kids will get from your trip through the woods.

DAD, ARE WE AT THE
HOTEL YET? I WANNA
WATCH TV!

I'M HUNGRY! WHERE'S THE MCDONALDS?

Indeed, the joy of nature is one of the things that the owners of sport utility vehicles can come back to and enjoy over and over!

What Makes a Sport Utility Vehicle So Tough?

Shock absorbers made of the same sturdy, high-performance springs found inside Madonna's bed.

Large, super-wide tires utilizing the same powerful rubber that McDonald's breakfast pancakes are made of.

Entire body of vehicle made of the same rigid, unbreakable material as the bubble gum that comes with baseball cards.

Manly stubble growing on front of truck.

Mud splashes, actually painted on, give rough, macho appearance.

Engine coolant system filled with the sweat of marines.

All these features make sport utility vehicles rough. This particular model isn't very good. This is not a cross-section view. It's the actual truck. You buy it this way. Unfortunately, it keeps falling over on its side when driven.

Crash Protection

Another attractive feature of the SUV is the integrity of its frame, featuring unsurpassed crash-protection.

SUV Uses for the Average Family

Millions of families are buying SUVs as fast as they are made. With all these powerful features, you may ask, "What does a typical suburban family need with such a tough sport utility vehicle?" Let's take a look:

Picking up and dropping off kids at school. Nothing navigates the precarious curves of a school driveway at 10 miles an hour like a SUV. Pity the poor souls that don't have one. You'll hardly feel the ominous speedbumps because of the massive, high-performance shocks and struts of your SUV. Aren't your children worth it?

Going to the mall. You'll thank the good Lord that you have the SUVs super powerful engine at your disposal. You can easily pull into those hazardous parking spaces, leaving everyone without a SUV in the dust and wishing they had one too!

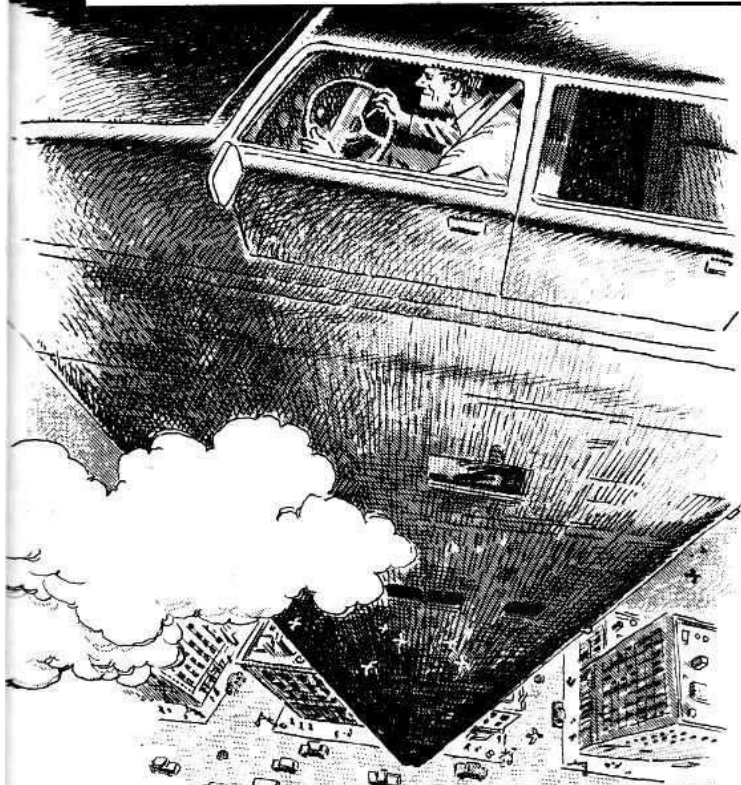

Driving to the train station each day. The super-wide tires and 4x4 traction moves you along the potentially treacherous streets of your suburb with confidence and ease. The powerful engine will haul you up the slightly-slanted, harrowing driveway of the station before you even know it! And the massive cargo room easily holds that cup of morning Starbucks coffee. Now you know why you spent the kid's college tuition on a SUV!

Future Sport Utility Vehicles

With constant advances in design and technology, what will the SUVs of the future be like? Manufacturers have been listening to what the consumer wants and will design their vehicles accordingly.

Customers have told us they like the feeling of power they get from riding high in their SUVs. So you can be sure that drivers of future SUVs will be up even higher.

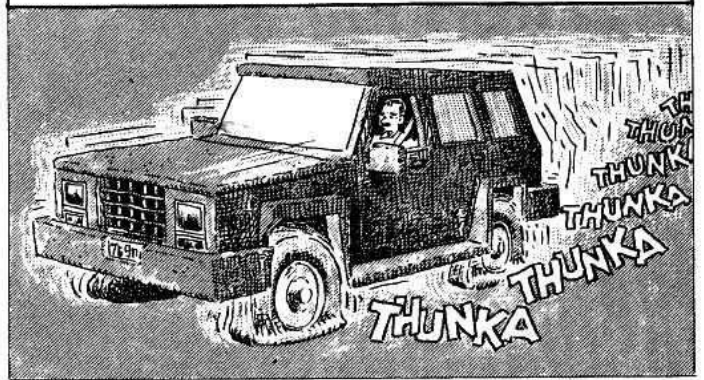

The Ford Skyscraper will be 30 stories tall, 50 feet wide, with 40-foot tall tires that roll over other cars, trucks, houses and buildings.

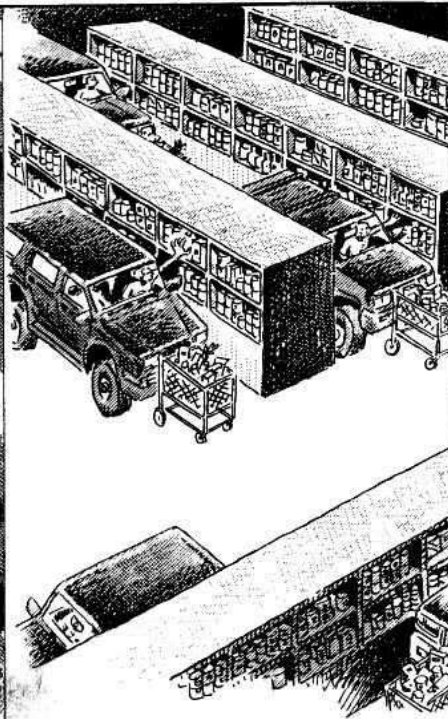

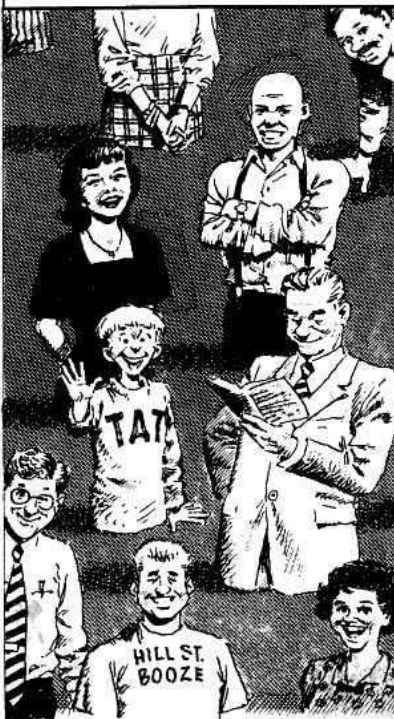

Couples with growing families like SUVs because the spacious, roomy vehicles are "family friendly." In order to make the SUV even more "family friendly", plans are under way to include on-board self-delivery rooms, so mom can easily keep popping out more and more kids while still doing the shopping and driving around the rest of the clan.

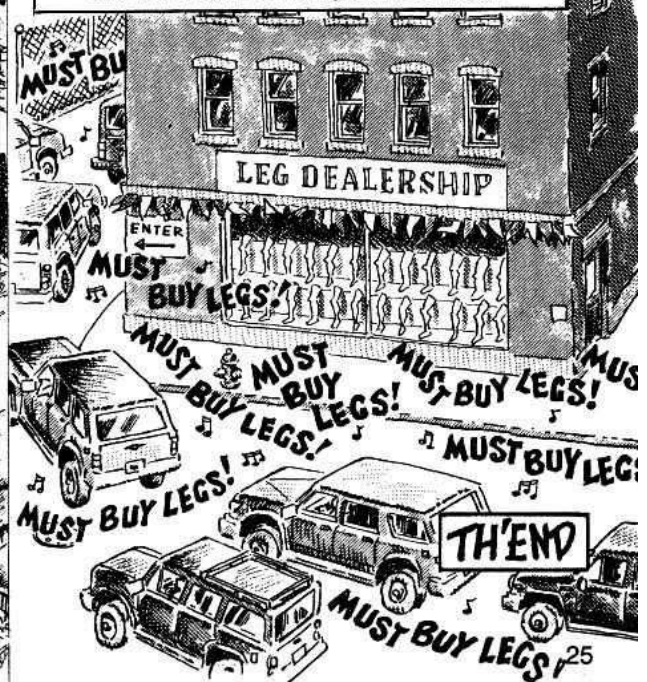

In the future, SUVs will get even stronger and tougher. In late 1998, look for the new Chevy Cement-Block.

Yes, experts agree that by the year 2040, sport utility vehicles will be so popular, they will replace legs as the natural human mode of transportation. Having no use for them, humans will begin being born without legs.

But by the year 2278, manufacturers will begin selling a new mode of transportation. It'll become a big fad. People will want to buy them because everyone else is buying them. What is this new mode of transportation? Legs!

Uh-oh, another silly Adam Sandler character has been forced on an unsuspecting public. It wouldn't be so bad if his jokes weren't older than the dinosaurs. In fact, there is one group of moviegoers who loves Adam Sandler movies. After all, they were around when these jokes were first told. We're talking about...

THE WATERBUG

WRITER: ANDY SIMMONS • ARTIST: JOHN SEVERIN

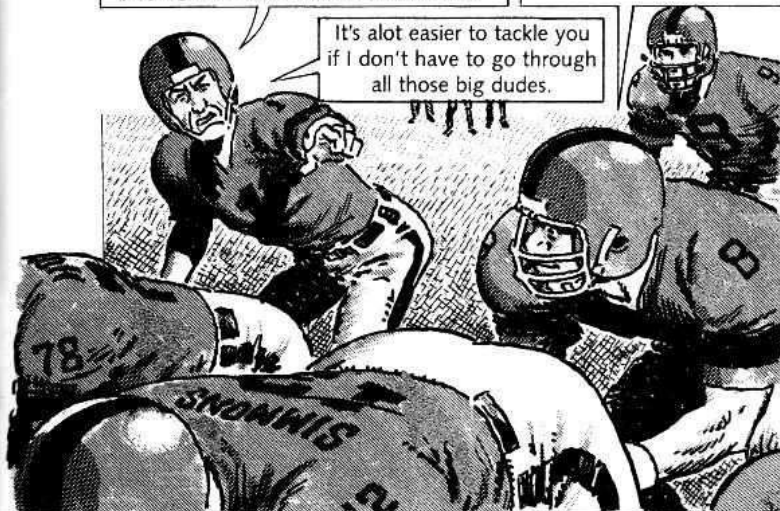

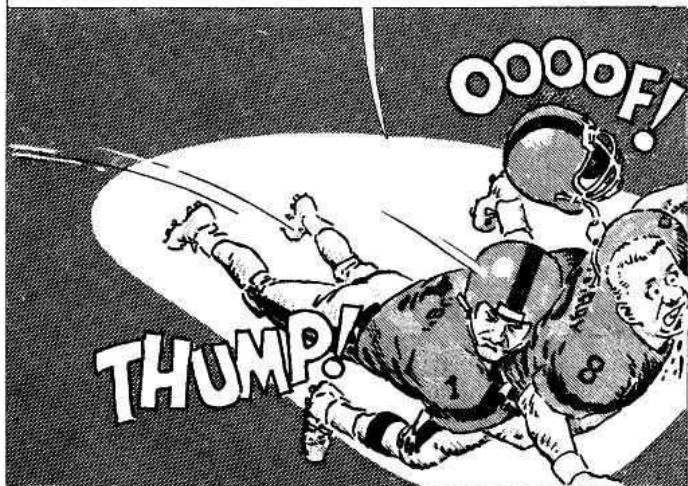

Hey you, Quarterback! What are you doing with your hands under that man's butt!? Don't you know the bible says men playing with other men's butts is a sin!

What are you doing on this side of the line?

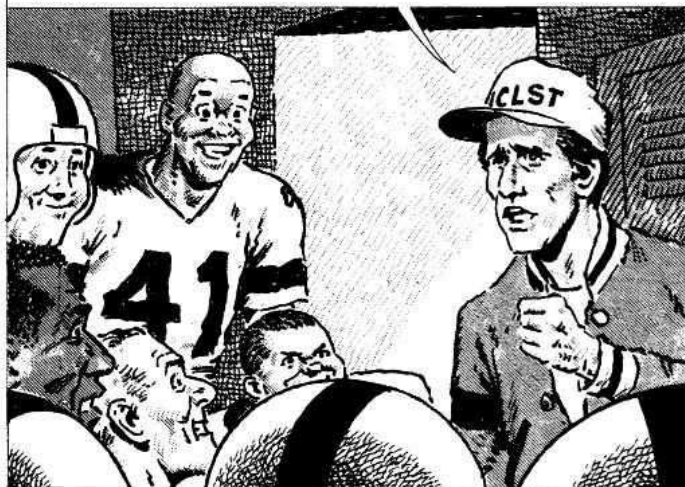

It's alot easier to tackle you if I don't have to go through all those big dudes.

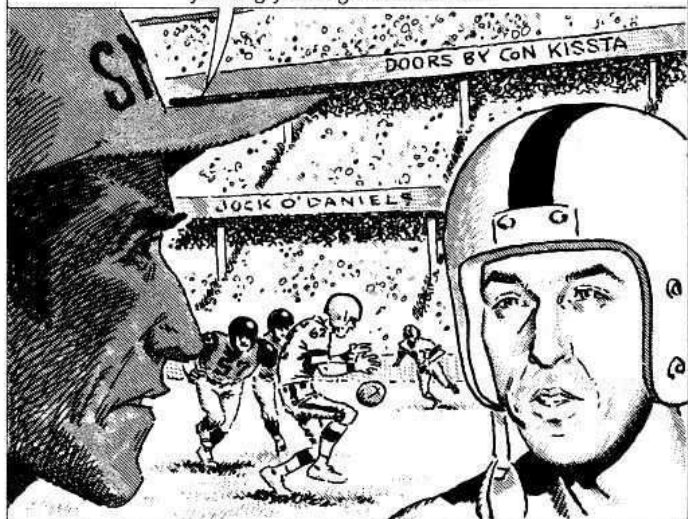

I'm only tackling you this hard 'cause God tells me I should prove my love for the homosexual by knocking some sense into him! Next time I see you I want your hands under a lady's butt!

All right, it's our first game of the season. Let's start off with our best play from last year. Lyle, I want you to go ten yards, turn, fall, get up, let the ball hit you in the hands, then drop it. On three. Let's go!

Booby, you have to make something happen on the defense. Pretend the quarterback is someone you hate. That'll get you angry enough to tackle him!

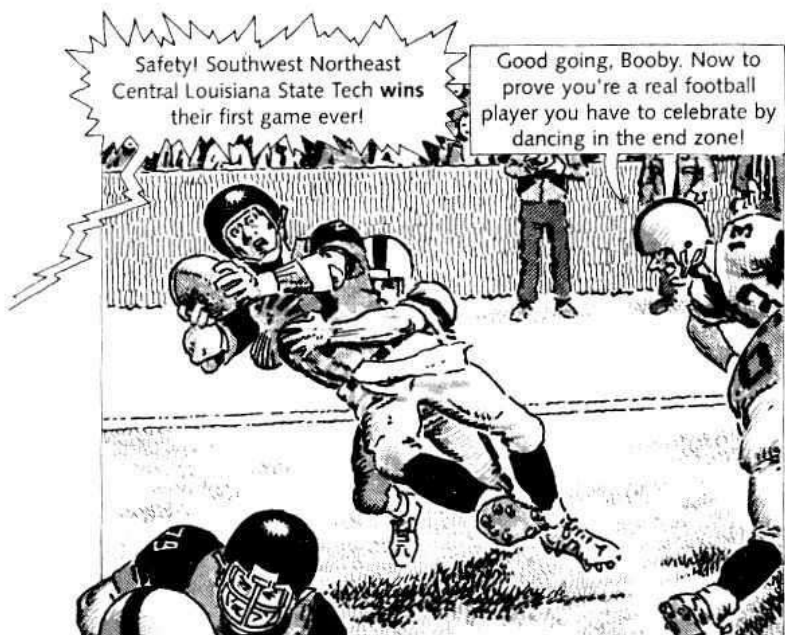

I hate ducks! They do their business in the water and shed their feathers there, too! Know what that does to water!?

TWEEEEET!

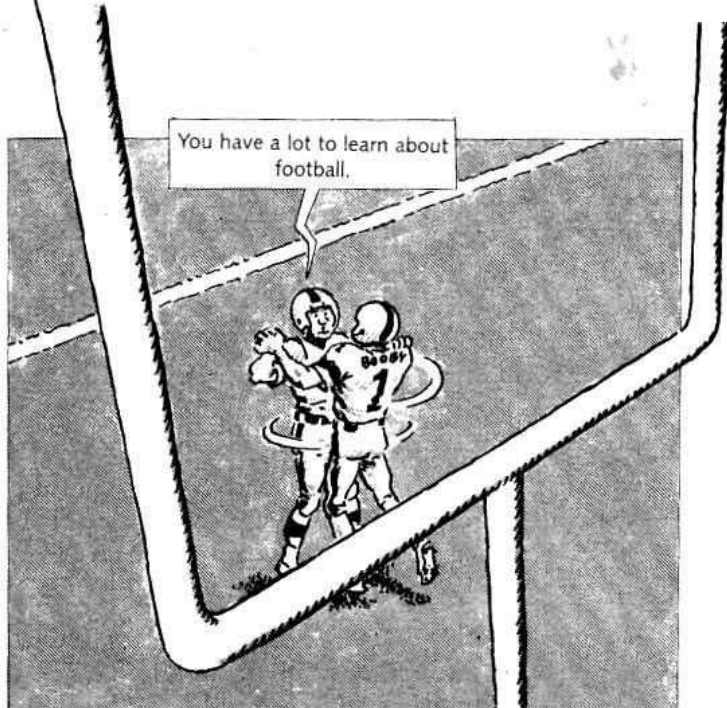

Fumbled head! Offense recovers. Third down on the one yard line!

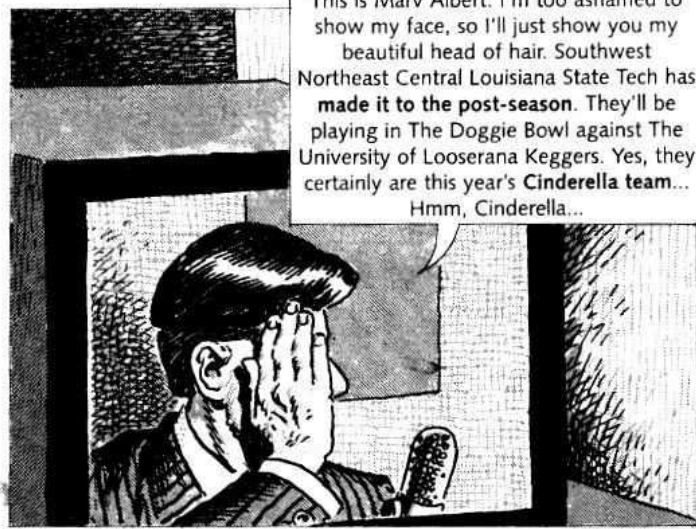

Safety! Southwest Northeast Central Louisiana State Tech wins their first game ever!

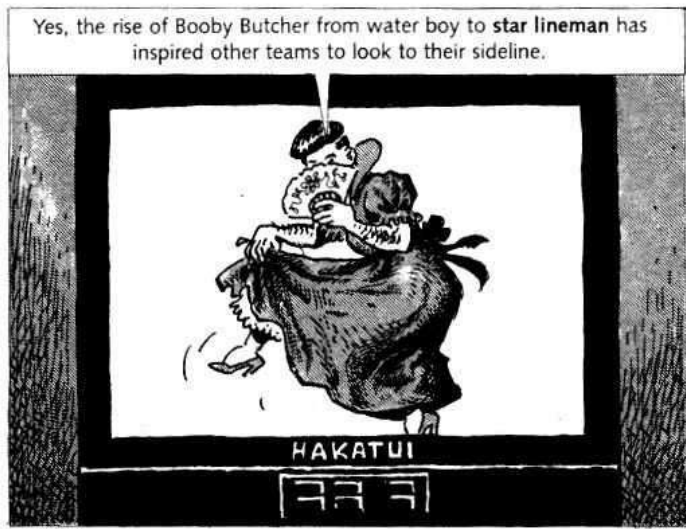

Good going, Booby. Now to prove you're a real football player you have to celebrate by dancing in the end zone!

You have a lot to learn about football.

This is Marv Albert. I'm too ashamed to show my face, so I'll just show you my beautiful head of hair. Southwest Northeast Central Louisiana State Tech has made it to the post-season. They'll be playing in The Doggie Bowl against The University of Looserana Keggers. Yes, they certainly are this year's Cinderella team...
Hmm, Cinderella...

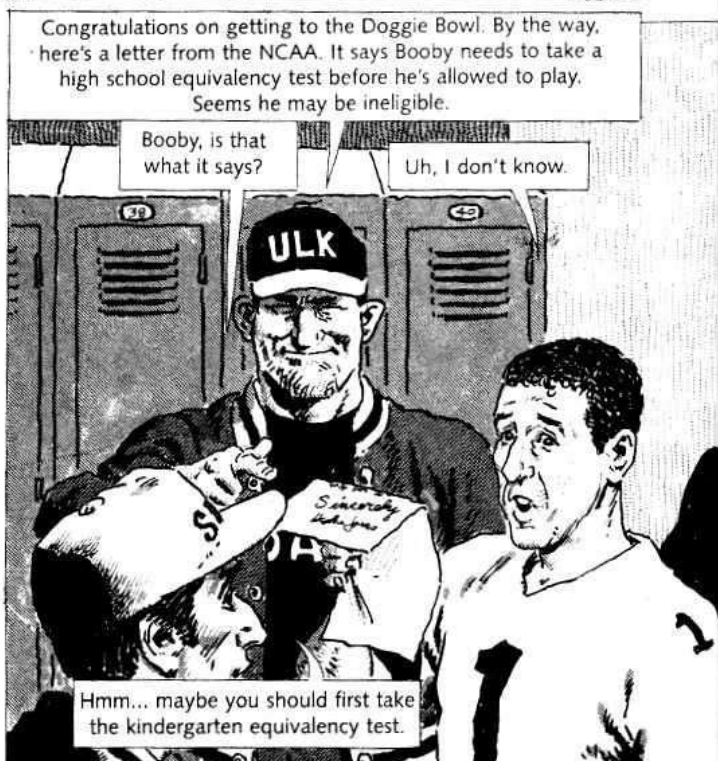

Yes, the rise of Booby Butcher from water boy to star lineman has inspired other teams to look to their sideline.

When University of Miami's running back Demetrius Turner pulled a muscle in his tongue, he was replaced by executive secretary Selma Pollack, seen here scrambling 70 yards for a touchdown.

Meanwhile, University of Nebraska tapped security guard Cliff Jackson as their newest middle linebacker. He made zero tackles, but handed out thirty tickets. Yesss!

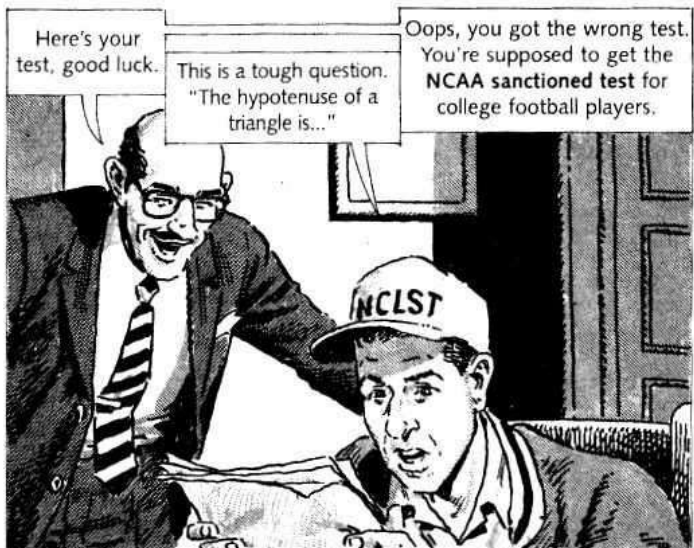

Congratulations on getting to the Doggie Bowl. By the way, here's a letter from the NCAA. It says Booby needs to take a high school equivalency test before he's allowed to play. Seems he may be ineligible.

Booby, is that what it says?

Uh, I don't know.

Hmm... maybe you should first take the kindergarten equivalency test.

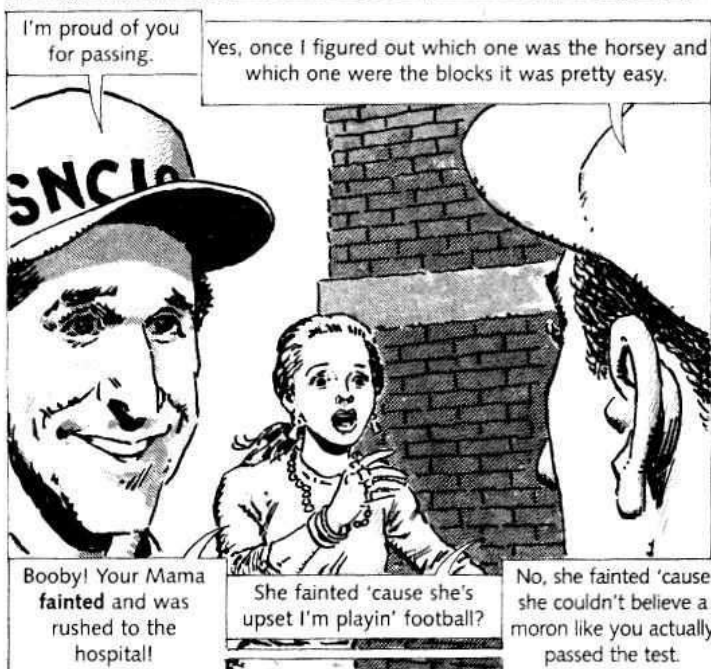

Here's your test, good luck.

This is a tough question. "The hypotenuse of a triangle is..."

Oops, you got the wrong test. You're supposed to get the NCAA sanctioned test for college football players.

Can we make a house for the horsey?

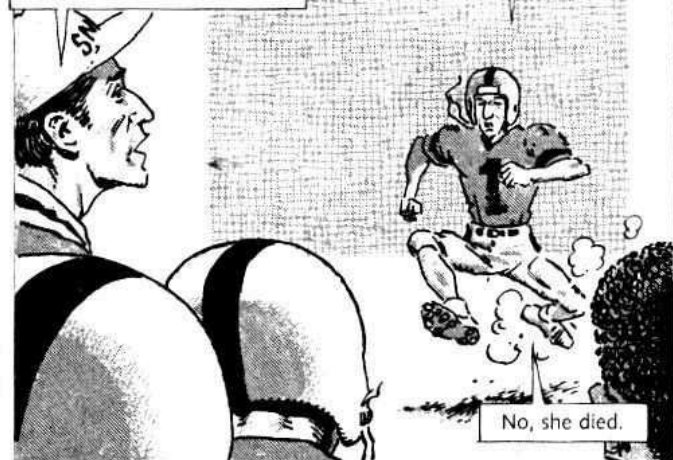

I'm proud of you for passing.

Yes, once I figured out which one was the horsey and which one were the blocks it was pretty easy.

Booby, how's your mother?

Those doctors didn't know what they were doing. They had her hooked up to all these tubes and wires giving her medicine and pills and whatnot. But I knew what she really needed. So I disconnected all of them and replaced her medicine with pure arctic glacial water!

So she pulled through?

No, she died.

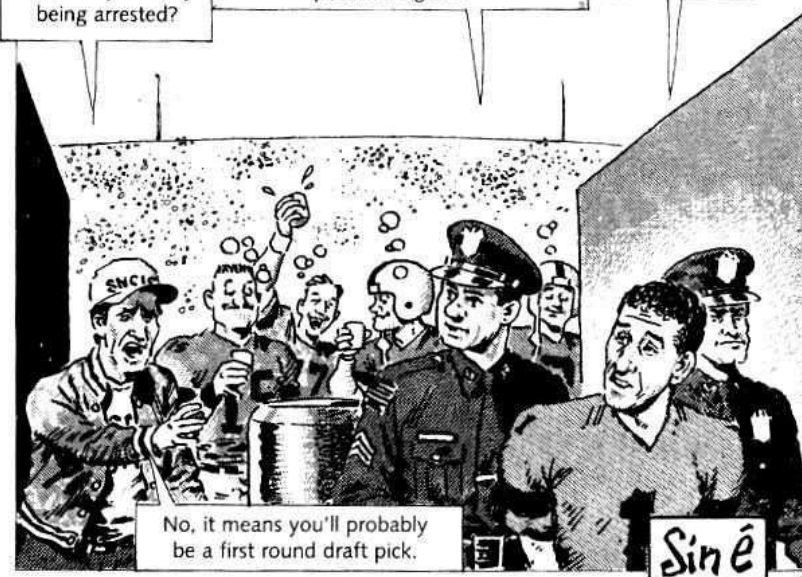

Hold it, Booby. You're under arrest!

Whoa, officer. We're trying to play a game here. Why's Booby being arrested?

For drunk driving, assault and battery, and taking bribes from potential agents.

Does this mean I'm off the team?

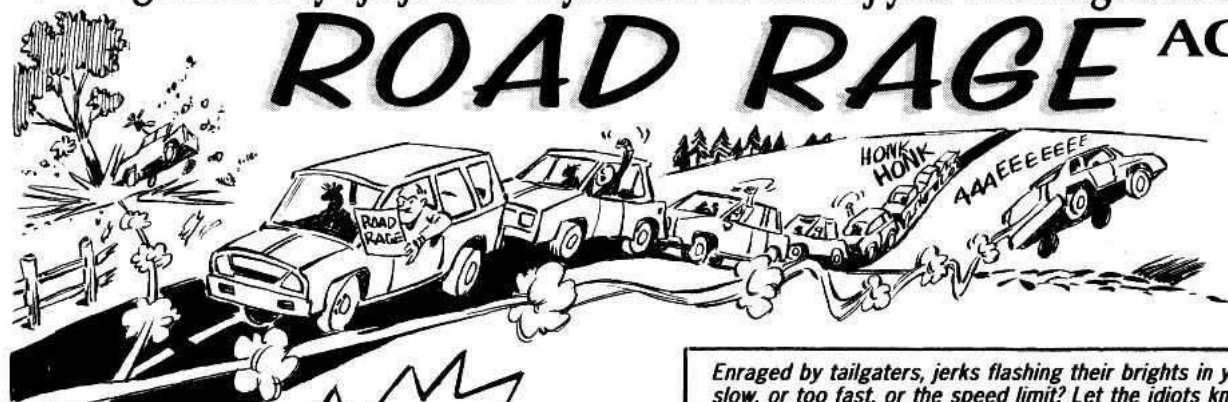

No, it means you'll probably be a first round draft pick.

Road Rage. It's a way of life these days. Make the most of your Road Rage with the state-of-the-art...

ROAD RAGE ACCESSORY CATALOG

Written while driving by:
GREG GRABIANSKI
Drawn under extreme pressure by: B. BOLINGER

Baby's First Road Rage Toy

Every child enjoys having a little plastic steering wheel on their safety seat so they can pretend they're driving just like mommy or daddy. Now your child can have Road Rage just like you! Comes with soft plastic steering wheel that baby can chew in frustration. Also attached is an adorable plastic Magnum .44 that junior can brandish and wave wildly out the window like his parents.

Enraged by tailgaters, jerks flashing their brights in your eyes, people driving too slow, or too fast, or the speed limit? Let the idiots know how you feel by flipping them off. Not the old-fashioned way! The modern way!

BIG OL' FLIP-EM-THE-BIRD
$799.95

Just press the button on the dashboard and the 8-foot tall Big Ol' Flip-Em-The-Bird® rises from your roof. Really lets them know what you think of them while you keep your hands safely on the wheel or the trigger of your assault rifle.

$4,500 "AutoCurse" Translator & Amplifier $4,500

The only thing more frustrating than a foreign driver is knowing that he or she doesn't understand what you're saying when you curse at them for driving like a moron.

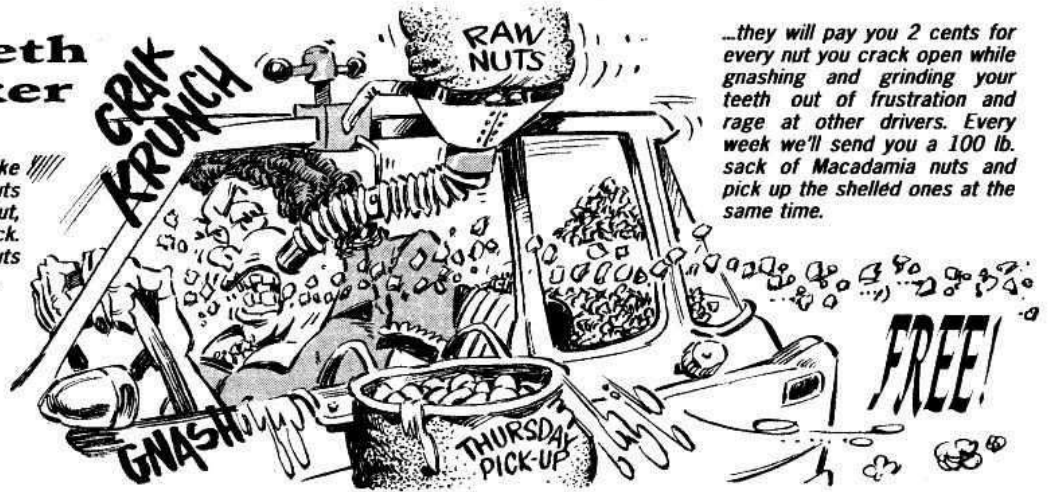

Now you can curse out any driver, no matter what their ethnic background, with the AutoCurse Translator and Amplifier®. It translates your profanity...

...and then blasts it out at over 200 decibels.

Grinding Teeth Money-Maker Plan

Why not use your Road Rage to make some extra money? Macadamia nuts have the hardest shell of any nut, requiring 900 lbs. of pressure to crack. Growers of these delicious prized nuts pay dearly to shell them. That's why...

...they will pay you 2 cents for every nut you crack open while gnashing and grinding your teeth out of frustration and rage at other drivers. Every week we'll send you a 100 lb. sack of Macadamia nuts and pick up the shelled ones at the same time.

$12 Torn-Out Hair Holder/Pillow

Think of all the hair you tear out of your skull while stuck behind some idiot, stopped by a red light or having to pull aside to let an ambulance pass. Now think of the mess you make with all that hair scattered over your seats and floor.

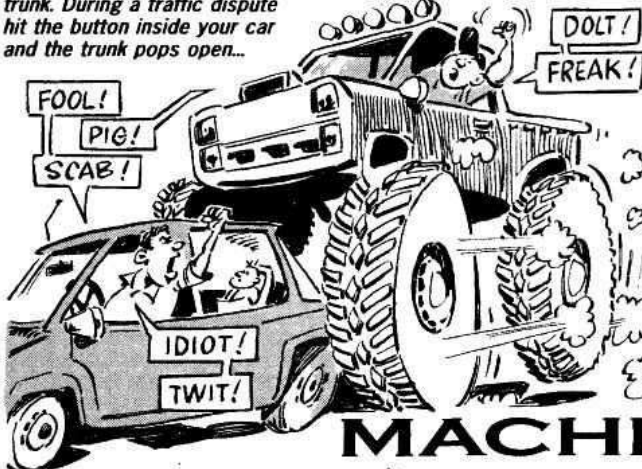

Try the Torn-Out Hair Holder, a handy sack that attaches to your steering wheel. Next time you claw a clump from your scalp, neatly place the hair in the holder.

Before you know it you'll fill it up! When filled, close one end of the sack and you'll have a nice, plush pillow! It's perfect comfort while you're on the stretcher as the paramedics wheel your broken body away from the massive accident you'll eventually cause.

Own the ultimate Road Rage accessory. It's your personal professional machine-gunner on call 24-hrs. a day, in your trunk. During a traffic dispute hit the button inside your car and the trunk pops open...

...revealing the bloodthirsty star of "Small Soldiers", Chip Hazard, and his high-powered machine-gun. Teach the other driver a lesson as his car is riddled and torn to shreds in a relentless storm of bullets. Now who's got the right of way?

MACHINE-GUNNER

It's also great for those slow, annoying student drivers and school buses that delay you because you're "required" to stop for them.

CALL 1-555-ROAD-RAGE and we'll speed your delivery right to your home.*

URPS

*Make sure to keep out of the way of the delivery guy. If you're in his way on the street, by God he'll shoot your ass! He hates morons like you who don't $@*! pay attention when they're driving! IDIOT! JERK! He's got deliveries to make!

No, we're not talking about the Huns attacking China in this movie. We're talking about the Walt Disney Corporation, and its newest connect-the-dots, formulaic animated movie...

MULAME

Light the warning signal! We're under attack by Spam-Yu and his army of Huns!

Wait, those aren't Huns. They're nuns!

There was a mix-up at the employment agency. I asked for Huns, they sent nuns. But we can still kick your butts.

WRITER: GREG GRABIANSKI • ARTIST: WALTER BROGAN

Oh! Look out! Grandmother, what are you doing crossing the street with your eyes closed?!

I'm testing a new lucky cricket.

Look out!

Poor grandmother. She can't tell a cricket from a roach.

My dear Mulame, it is time for you to marry. To help you get a husband, I will give you a few gifts: an apple for serenity, a jade necklace for beauty and a cricket for good luck.

Thank you, grandmother.

And most important of all: wonderbra for cleavage, body oil for kinkiness, spatula for cooking and strip of tape to keep mouth shut.

Ah, my daughter Mulame. You disgraced your family. We put a personal ad in the paper and nobody answered. Oh, look, the blossom on this tree is late. But when it blooms, it will be the most beautiful of all.

Oh, father. Are you saying I'm like that blossom?

Uh, no. Actually, I think you're more like that rotten cabbage in the back of the garden: spoiled, stinky and worthless.

The Huns have invaded China. I have been called to war and must now practice my swordsmanship—ouch! Urgh!

Oh! Father's old war wound! He will never survive another battle! I must disguise myself as a man and go in his place.

Dammit to hell! Stupid Mulame left her hair comb on the floor and I stepped on it. Ouch. God, I can't wait to go off to war and be away from that idiot.

I've cut my hair to look like a boy.

Actually, you just look like a girl with medium length hair.

Now I'll put on his armor.

Yeah, how convenient that it fits you and your much taller dad.

Phew! I only wish dad woulda washed it. I never knew armor could get skidmarks.

As the spirits of the family ancestors, we're worried about Mulame. She's in the army using the name Pong. We have to send a guardian spirit to protect her.

Yo, I can do it! I'm just an incense holder now, but I used to be a guardian spirit! I know I made a few boo-boos in the past, but gimme another chance, man!

Who did you protect before?

Abe Lincoln, J.F.K., Nicole Brown Simpson, Princess Di and Phil Hartman.

Hey, girl, my name's Achoo and I'm a guardian dragon. I'm here to help you.

You're pretty small for a dragon.

My growth got stunted because I smoke a lot. Heh-heh! Get it? Dragon... smoke?

I want you recruits to retrieve that arrow at the top of the pole. Pong! Get up there!

PUFF! This training is hard. IRRRG! I don't know how I'm ever going to get that arrow down for Shung-well. I've been trying to climb up there all day.

You're going about it all wrong! Now, me being an African-American dragon, lemme show you the way a brother would get it down.

See, I told you! All you needed was the basketball shoes and you've got all the jumping height you need, baby! Look at you! Just like Mike!

Spam-Yu, sir, this doll was delivered by your falcon. Does it tell you anything?

Three very important things. By its design, I see it comes from the Tung-Kis Pass. By its faint smell of cannon powder, it tells me that General Lou's army is waiting there for us.

What's the third thing?

That it's so cute, and I get to hug her and braid her hair and sing to her and I can hold her when I sleep at night.

Well, we're off to war. I've made it this far. Everyone's convinced that I'm a man.

Yeah, but since the emperor started his "Don't Ask/Don't Tell" policy, you're one of the more macho soldiers!

Pong! Why did you go wild and steal the cannon from the rest of your men during the battle?!

I have my reasons!

The Huns are closing in! You have one shot, don't waste it, girl.

Don't worry. I'll get that soldier way back in the corner! He's wearing the exact same armor as I am! A girl can't stand for that kind of thing!

I missed! I hit the mountain and caused an avalanche!

Dude! Snowboarding rules! Let's all, like, quit Spam-Yu's army and, like, do nuthin' but board, man!

Totally awesome and cool! Light up a fat one! Later, Spam!

You destroyed my army! Now they're all worthless, stoned-out snowboarders!

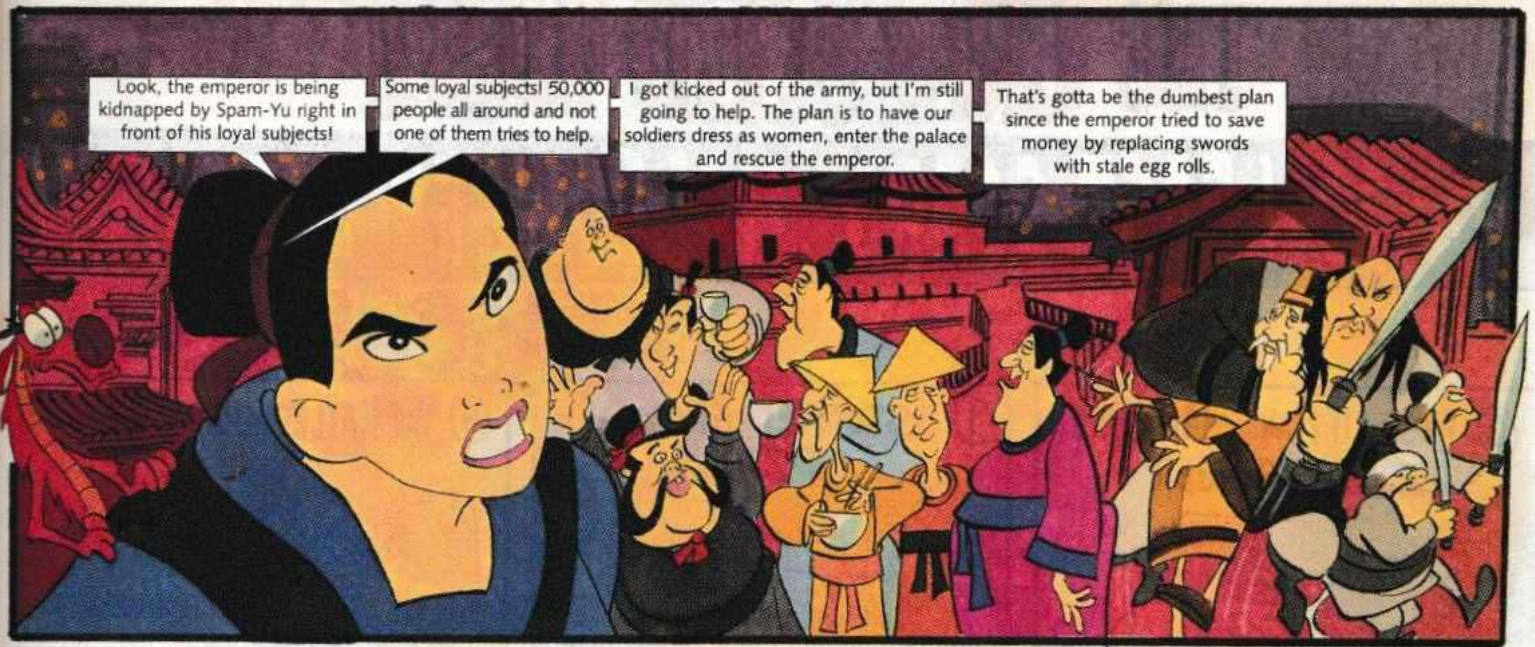

How is he, doctor?

While I was tending to the wound, Shung-well, I have discovered something: Pong is not a man, but a woman.

No!

Wait, how did you find that out? The wound was just a cut on the hand!

Umm... well... uh... (gulp)... you see... er... that is... (cough)... I have to run now! Bye!

Look, the emperor is being kidnapped by Spam-Yu right in front of his loyal subjects!

Some loyal subjects! 50,000 people all around and not one of them tries to help.

I got kicked out of the army, but I'm still going to help. The plan is to have our soldiers dress as women, enter the palace and rescue the emperor.

That's gotta be the dumbest plan since the emperor tried to save money by replacing swords with stale egg rolls.

Our plan worked. The emperor is free!

Yummy! Cross-dressing guys! Can I offer any of you ladies a ride?

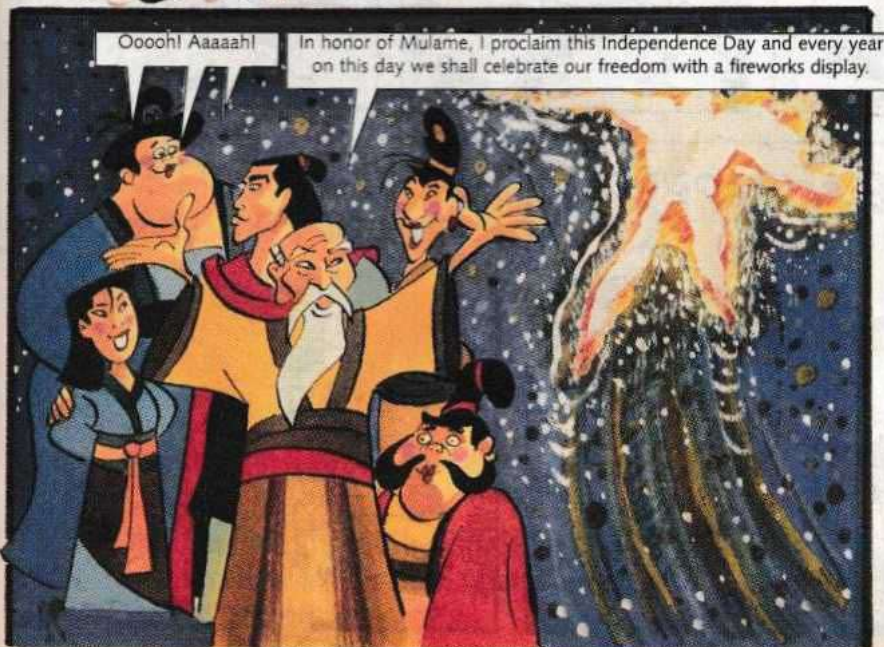

Oh, no! I forgot that Eddie Murphy does Achoo's voice!

I wish somebody would free me before this crazy old lady walks out in traffic again.

You took away my victory! YOU MUST DIE!

Hold still. I'm gonna make you a star!

Ooooh! Aaaaah!

In honor of Mulame, I proclaim this Independence Day and every year on this day we shall celebrate our freedom with a fireworks display.

And to this day, in Tiananmen Square, the rulers celebrate Independence Day with fireworks, usually aimed at their own people.
